Vet and Clinical Director at Brentknoll. Dave qualified as a veterinary surgeon (MRCVS) in 1985, at the Royal Veterinary College, London. Dave has specialised in small animals as a vet in practice since 1988 –completing his post-graduate Certificate in Small Animal Cardiology in 1993. In 2000, he completed his post-graduate Certificate in Small Animal Medicine.

Dave opened Brentknoll Veterinary Centre in 1993 and has been looking after clients and their pets' well-being ever since, seeing Cardiology referral cases from across the West Midlands since 1994 and since 2002 for internal medicine.

Dave's special veterinary interests are heart and lung problems, plus general medical problems for both dogs and cats – as well as running an enthusiastic, high quality, veterinary practice breaking new boundaries in pet health care.

In Dave's spare time he enjoys exploring the outdoors by cycling and kayaking; travelling the world with fellow cycle enthusiasts and his wife Paula.
